THE FARM IN JONES VALLEY

The Farm in Jones Valley is a brief history of the Jones Farm from the time it was acquired by Carl and Edwin Jones in 1939 until the present time. It addresses the various agricultural endeavors the farm has pursued during these years and it describes the growth of the City of Huntsville, Alabama, as it has paralleled the growth of the farm. The book is also an autobiography of the author's life as it has intertwined through the years with the growth and changes of this farm which is the largest operating completely urban farm in America.

About the Author

Raymond B. Jones has a great capacity to remember details from his life growing up in Jones Valley that come together to paint a picture of a beautiful valley that is beloved by all who pass through it. Ray was four years old when he moved with his family to this place and he has loved the farm for all these years. He still lives on the farm with Libby, his wife of soon to be 50 years. He has three children and seven grandchildren, all of whom have worked or are still working in the family business.
